

The Trojan Ships (Redemption of the Negro Nation)

Ron Hardy / Literary

Four centuries ago on August 21, 1619 the Dutch slave ship "Jesus of Lubeck" docked at Jamestown in the newly discovered world. This new world of North America was being settled by European settlers from various nations running away from disease, poverty, lack of food and seeking religious freedom. The cargo on this ship and many other slave ships to come was Negro slaves from the West coast of Africa. The Negro slaves would later prove to be one of the greatest financial assets in the history of North America. On the other hand it would also become known as one of the worst atrocities in the history of the modern world. The last known slave ship docking in North America during this 400 year period was the "Clotilda" which arrived at Mobile Bay sometime in 1860.

Between 1619 and 1860 slave ships docked up and down the eastern and gulf coast of North America. The ships filled with Negro slaves abducted from the West coast of Africa became the pathway to building individual wealth as well as an American Empire.

Upon arriving in 1619 was the beginning of their 400 year ordeal into chattel slavery, injustice, poverty and disrespect. The Negro's on these ships landing in North America were in for centuries of a brutal life. This period of Negro history can be called "The Punishment of the Negro Nation".

The ensuing era after the 400 year ordeal of chattel slavery which began August 21, 2019 will be called the Redemption of the Negro Nation. The plight of Negroes and their experiences in North America have often been described as living in the belly of the beast.

If you know the story of the Trojan Horse, apply that mode of subterfuge which the Greeks used to infiltrate and destroy Troy. This is the tale of the Trojan Ship. This is the strategy used by the God of the Negroes to infiltrate a rogue nation and over take it.

The God of the Negroes earlier promised them this horrible ordeal of slavery in a strange land as well as a triumphant redemption upon paying their debt for their disobedience, vile behavior and belief in other Gods. However before the redemption, Negroes would be forced to pay a 400 year debt of enslavement to their captors which their God ordained. There also was a prerequisite given to them before being restored back to their Noble days, Negroes would have to retain their faith in their God as well as practice His commandments throughout the period of their entrapment in slavery. Their God assured them that if they remained true to HIM throughout their peril that they would be redeemed, exonerated and restored back to their original glorious days. As it was written, 2/3 of the Negroes would not be able to endure and indeed would be destroyed. They wouldn't included in the Redemption of the Negroes back to Nobility.

At this present time in 2020 401 years later after the gallows of the slave ships were opened Negroes are being evaluated individually by cherubs. Their resistance to the White European culture, ideas, faith and way of life would be the criteria used to determine their reinstatement back to receiving favor from their God. As it is written, there would be an elect remnant of the Negro slaves that would regain their prominence, respect and be returned to their rightful place on the Earth.

Negros remained in hard core chattel slavery until April of 1864 without any of the rights afforded to them. White European settlers and other other nationalities of people which arrived in this new land called America were included in the American dream.

155 years before the conclusion of the 400 year slavery period Negro slaves were so called freed by their captors from the tortuous physical slavery and animal type breeding system. Mental slavery was then instituted. With the chains removed the Negros were manipulated into joining the world of their captors. This sense of freedom in 1864 that Negros gained was a type of semi-freedom from their ordeal. They were released from hard core chantal slavery but still were subjugated and subservient to the White Europeans and the other groups that had migrated to America. At the beginning Negros and Whites lived and socialized in their segregated communities.

The original Negro culture and heritage was embedded in their DNA and shared through spoken word along with a exhibited way of life behavior. The negative social and moral behaviors were learned and embedded in the mindset of Negro's through the perils of their subjugation and later their integration into the mainstream White European way of life.

In the late 1960's through a intense social demand for racial justice Negros and Whites were forced to integrate. This all sounded great at the time ;however, the integration of Negros into the White European social, cultural and moralistic value system caused havoc and the loss of cultural identity for Negros. As Negros began integrating into sports, entertainment, politics, religion and educational institutions along with the other social activities of the European White community, this was the turning point in the loss of innate inherited Negro culture which was embedded in them prior to their arrival in America.

During the following 60 years adjacent to the civil rights movement leading up to 2019 throughout the 1970's, 80's , 90's, 2000's into 2019 Negro cultural family life, moralistic code, and spiritual value system eroded and dissolved into a psuedo White European way of life.

During this period there was a segment of the Negro population that rejected or was not privy to this transformation of culture and mindset. They were often vilified and uneducated as they remained in the heart of the Negro Ghettos. Cheap slave labor was resurrected through mass incarceration of these Negros into jails and prisons.

A new code of conduct was ingested by some Negros integrating into the European America. The new adopted behavior by these ambitious Negros did not penetrate the mindset nor did it set well with all in the Negro community

As it was written after the 400 years of slavery, the remnant of the elect Negros would not fall into the mindset and customs of their captors. On August 21, 2019 the incubation period would begin as the Redemption of the Lost Nation would be activated through Divine spirit powers .

Today now in October 2020 history is being written and recorded for generations to come. We watch the Trojan Horse senerio being played out. Negros are now released from the 400 years slavery imposed on them by their God and have infiltrated deep into the fabric of the United States of America.

The descendants of the Negro slaves who were brought to this land via the gallows of European slave ships are now free to claim their dignity, inheritance and place of leadership in the world. The future story of America will reveal the next episode of the Redemption of the Negro Nation from the Trojan Ship. The Trojan Horse strategy has proved to be an effective methodology to infiltrating and conquering. The God of the Negro's is the master in the art of warfare as well as loves peace along with harmony and tranquility. The next century in American history will be the test of the The Trojan Horse strategy as it was implemented via the Trojan Ship. This methodology by the God of the Negros will bring righteousness to a unrighteous situation. As history unfolds day by day, future generations will finish telling this story..
